BURNED BABIES BONES IN STOVE

SACRAMENTO, May 23.—Evidence in the city jail pending the placing of evidence before the grand jury that may connect her with doing away with the bodies of newborn babies, really has been practicing such nefarious crimes was found by Detective William Hanney.

A wood stove in her room at 1701 Fourth street was examined and although its contents had been carefully burned, scrapings were taken from the bottom and submitted to physicians for examination.

Dr. A. C. Nahl, physician and surgeon in charge of the City Isolation hospital, examined the remnants of bone and said:

"I have made a study of bones for years and consider myself an expert along that line. There is not a shadow of a doubt in my mind but the tiny pieces brought to me for examination are human bones. They are badly charred, but there is a perfect piece of vertebrae among the collection. The small pieces of jaw bone and tiny leg bones are also perfect specimens."

SHORTENS THE DISTANCE TO CARSON FIFTY MILES

C. C. Cottrell, engineer of the highway commission, has returned from a trip to Hawthorne and points south the object of the trip was to go over the proposed route on the west side of Walker lake.

This proposed road means much to his end of Nevada and also Carson. This road building shortens the road between this city and Tonopah approximately 50 miles. When finished it will be possible to travel from Reno or Carson to any section in southern Nevada with only one summit, that is Carriers or Mountain House, and his piece of road is being trimmed down and considerable of the grade at. Recent surveys show that between the foot of the Dodsonbaugh hill and the summit at Carriers that hard pull will be practically eliminated. When completed the going from there to Tonopah is good sailing.

While it is possible to drive an auto from Tonopah to Carson in one day over the old road, with the proposed new roads the trip will not be a serious undertaking. With the recent developments in the south the new road is a necessity and means much to those who are developing in the south.—Carson News.

SHOWING GREEKS HOW TO FARM

(Correspondence Associated Press)
CRETE, April 10.—American scientific agriculturists are now completing a survey of the soil possibilities of Crete in the same thorough fashion in which they surveyed the Greek mainland. American farming machinery and up-to-date methods are needed and arrangements have been made to educate the farmers of Greece and Crete so that they can increase their yield of crops.

Major C. G. Hopkins of the Illinois Agricultural Department, and Lieutenant G. J. Bouyoucos, a native Greek, educated in America and a former instructor at Michigan Agricultural College, are in charge of the American Red Cross agricultural survey of Greece and Crete.

GERMANS LOOT RAILROAD CARS

(Correspondence of Associated Press)
COBLENZ, April 29.—Eight German railroad employees were arrested recently by American military police in Coblenz and charged with robbing United States army cars of food. One of the men, Gerhardt Croom, was superintendent of the railroad yards in Coblenz, and the others were switchmen. Croom, who was taken to the office of the provost marshal by an American private was greatly humiliated by this procedure and protested vigorously.

The American military police allege German railway employees were found separating food cars from a train arriving at night. Switching a car onto a lonely siding, robbing it and dividing the plunder. Afterward the car would be returned to its proper place in the train.

HARD LUCK OF YANKEE MASCOT

(Correspondence Associated Press)

LONDON, April 17.—American airmen who befriended and made a mascot of a bright, curly-haired English boy named George Loveridge, will be grieved to learn that the lad had a hard time of it after they returned to the United States. Charged with sleeping in a hayrick and having no visible means of support, the youth was arraigned in the Ebbwbridge police court the other day.

"Well, my boy," questioned the court, "haven't you any friends at all?"

"Only the Yanks, sir," the prisoner replied.

He said his father and mother were killed and their house wrecked by a bomb in an air-raid in October, 1917.

"Some American airmen," he went on, "took pity on me and called me the mascot of No. 186th squadron. They treated me very kindly, gave me a uniform and took me with them wherever they went. I was paid $10 a month by the paymaster. When the squadron went to France they wanted to take me, but the war office wouldn't let them, so they asked No. 153rd squadron to take care of me. When that left for France I was handed over to No. 228th squadron and came with them to Northolt."

"Now they have returned to America. They tried right hard to take me, but the government said I couldn't go for four years. I spent all my money and had to sleep under the hayrick."

In handing the boy over to the police court missionary, the magistrate said: "You must not mind being in the dock. You haven't done anything very wrong."

TRUCKEE MILL BURNED

The old lumber mill on the Truckee river has been destroyed by fire and the fire trains were called out to prevent the flames from spreading to adjacent railroad property. Fires usually break out in the old sawdust piles each spring and smolder until the fall rains come.

The flying events of the past week are enough to make Darius Green turn over in his grave and give utterance to a sound resembling for all the world, "I told you so."

Better Housing Conditions Are Needed in London

(Correspondence Associated Press)
WORCESTER, Eng., April 25.—"My parish ought to be blown up. The only way to deal with it would be to put fourteen batteries of 5-inch guns on Malvern Hills, clear the people out and blow the parish to pieces and then rebuild it, fit for man to live in."

That is how the Rev. G. A. Studdert Kennedy, vicar of St. Paul's church here, would proceed to secure better housing conditions, he told a large gathering in a theater of this city.

LIQUOR MASQUERADES AS "INSECT POWDER"

By packing his liquor in little tin cans which were neatly labeled as "insect powder," Mickle Flore succeeded in shipping 120 pints of whiskey into the dry state of Oregon, according to testimony given by agents of the department of justice before United States Commissioner Francis Krull yesterday. Flore, who formerly conducted a corner grocery in Seattle, will be given a further hearing Wednesday. R. M. Falconer and Joe Kowalsky, accused of being partners of Flore in an illicit liquor-selling scheme, are under arrest in Portland.
